

"LOOK A-HERE!"

Said the Big Kentuckian From the Mountains.

Then He Proved to the Stranger That Clay County Is Not So Bad as Some Persons Believe.

From the Courier-Journal.

The gentleman was from Somerset, Ky. The night was warm and he was dallying with a julep in the wet goods department of the Galt House. He was sipping it slowly and was evidently on good terms with himself and the world in general. He had taken his last quaff and was drawing the moisture from the ends of his mustache with his handkerchief when a stranger entered and took a seat at the table opposite him. Both sat a few minutes in silence.

"From Kentucky?" finally ventured the man from Somerset, by way of being sociable.

"Aha," said the man from Somerset, "I represent the other extreme of the State."

"Live near Clay county?"

"No, sir," said the Kentuckian, "but just as leave. Clay county, I reckon is just about as good a county as there is in the State."

"You don't mean to say," remarked the stranger with some degree of surprise and contempt, "that you sanction the deeds of the feudists or sympathize with either faction?"

"Don't mean to say anything of the sort," snorted the mountain citizen, "but a lot of these goll darned fools who talk about mountain Kentuckians being uncivilized and wuss than felines and sech like, why, they order be sent to the lunatic asylum."

"Now, look a-here, for instance: Here's two men that hev bin enemies en talked 'bout one 'nother and kinder got mad. They meet. Both pulls guns en the last one throw his finger on the trigger tumbled over. Fair fight, wasn't it? Well, the story gits in the newspapers en the public makes a big howdy do over the matter en, of co'se, we're all desperados and cut throats."

"Why, d-n me," growled he of Somerset, growing red in the face and pounding his fist on the table, "East'a Kentucky is a big bower of angels compared with some of the States. Look at Ohio. Up there in Cleveland a lot of 'em sneakin' ruffians air a throwin' dynamite at street kyars loaded with women en children. They're pullin' up track en destroyin' millions of dollars wuth 'o' property en the public looks on en sighs, 'My, the poor wukins' man.'"

"D-n me," he roared again, shaking the tumbler and decanters on the bar until they jingled, "I just see by the newspapers that they're havin' mol trouble in the mines in Illinois, en that a posse has shot into a crowd, killin' a lot 'o' 'em and a woodin' mol. They're civilized, ain't it? En yet the public looks on en sighs, 'Suved 'em right had no 'business actin' stubbin'.'"

"D-n me, I see in the newspapers that they're bin doin' some mol lynchin' uv niggers in the South 'cause they're 'spected of doin' somethin' wrong; en the Coroner sez the niggers froze to death. Looks nice, don't it; kinder edifying ter the rest 'o' the world. The know alls and wire folks, they say: 'Well, they wuv only niggers, en they order larn how ter behave themselves. Nice thing, ain't it?'"

"Thunderation! We men up in the mount'ns er goin' ter get up a kind 'o' society ter the prevention of cruelty to mankind, en we air goin' ter 'establish headquarters in Clay county en do reg'lar mission wuk, thet's what we're goin' ter do, en don't you fergit it!"

And with this the man from Somerset gave the table another good rap and indignantly walked away.

Mrs. Frank Toombs, of Sloughtersville, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. N. I. Toombs here.

A COUNT OF CUBAN NOSES

Gen. Joseph Sanger Assigned to Take Charge of the Census of Cuba

THE CENSUS WILL BE TAKEN BY CUBANS

It will be done, however, after a General Plan Formulated by the Census Office at Washington and the Final Tabulation of the Counts Will be Made There.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The secretary of war has directed that the census of Cuba shall be completed by January 1 next, and Gen. Joseph Sanger, of the inspector general's department, will be assigned to take general charge of the work, with headquarters at Havana. Gen. Sanger was in command of one of the military departments of Cuba for several months after the Spanish evacuation, and has been recently engaged in special duty here in connection with the administration of affairs in our insular possession.

The manner in which the census is to be taken has been practically determined, as a result of numerous conferences held between the Cuban officials and the authorities of the war department and census office.

The immediate taking of the census will be under a Cuban official in each district. Each will have a force of Cuban enumerators, but the number of these is yet to be decided upon. The final tabulation of the counts will be made at the census office at Washington. So far as decided upon, the questions to be asked will be as follows:

Name, age, sex, color, trade, occupation or profession; married or single, or other family relation; sanitary condition of house; disposal of garbage and of fecal matter; ability to read, write, or speak or understand the English language, and what elementary knowledge makes it probable that this understanding of English will be acquired; nationality, whether Cuban or Spanish; ownership or rental; area of land cultivated, and kinds of crops; schools and number of scholars in attendance, and number of days attended.

The conferences are still in progress, and may develop change, yet the census will be brought as far as possible within the above scope.

Dispatches from Gen. Davis Giving Additional Details of the Havoc Wrought.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Two dispatches from Gen. Davis, giving additional details of the fearful havoc wrought by the hurricane of last week, were received at the war department yesterday. They were immediately sent to Secretary Root, who already had taken measures for dispatching relief to the people of the island. The secretary expects the transport McPherson with a large quantity of rice and beans will leave New York to-day and this will be followed by other vessels as fast as arrangements can be made for sending supplies.

STARVATION IN PORTO RICO

Thousands Will Perish Unless Relief Is Promptly Sent from the United States.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The war department yesterday took prompt measures for the relief of the hurricane sufferers in Porto Rico. While the dispatches and then, Davis' advice made known the extent of the disaster steps were immediately taken to send supplies and the transport McPherson was ordered put in readiness to sail from New York on Monday next. She will carry rations and other necessary supplies.

Secretary of War Root yesterday afternoon sent the following appeal to the mayors of all cities of more than 100,000 population:

"Sir:—The governor general of Porto Rico confirms the report that upon the eighth instant a hurricane swept over that island, entirely demolishing many of the towns, destroying many lives and reducing, so far as he can estimate, not less than 100,000 of the inhabitants to the condition of absolute destitution, without homes or food. Unless immediate and effective relief is given these unfortunate people will perish of famine."

"Under these conditions, the president deems that an appeal should be made to the humanity of the American people. It is an appeal to their patriotism also, for the inhabitants of Porto Rico freely and gladly submitted themselves to the guardianship of the United States, and have voluntarily surrendered the protection of Spain, to which they were formerly entitled, confidently relying upon more generous and beneficent treatment at our hands. The highest considerations of honor and good faith unite with the promptings of humanity to require from the United States a generous response to the demand of Porto Rico distress."

"This department has directed the immediate distribution of rations to the sufferers by the army in Porto Rico, so far as it is within the power of the executive, but in the absence of any appropriation we must rely largely upon private contributions."

"I beg that you will call upon the public-spirited and humane people of your city to take active and immediate measures in this exigency. The government transport McPherson will be sent directly from the port of New York to Porto Rico on Monday, the fourth instant, to carry all the supplies of food which can be obtained. Further transports will be sent in future dates, of which public notice will be given."

"Any committee charged with the raising of funds will be given every facility and advice on communication with this department."

Respectfully,

ELIHU ROOT,

Secretary of War.

DESTRUCTION BY STORM.

Two Persons Killed and Several Injured by Lightning and Much Property Destroyed.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—According to dispatches received from points in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa and Wisconsin, a great deal of damage was done by Friday night's storm. In some places there was loss of life due to lightning and the loss in crops and destroyed buildings reaches a heavy figure.

Collins, farmhand near Harvard, Ill., struck by lightning.

Stickney, Frank, 17 years, struck by lightning near Jacksonville, Wis.

Car, John, Harvard, Ill., stunned by lightning.

Knox, Christian, Elgin, Ill., shocked by lightning.

Son and granddaughter of above, stunned by lightning.

Jr., John, Harvard, Ill., stunned by lightning.

In many places livestock was killed. A large party gathered in a new barn, preparatory to dedicating it with a dance. Lightning demolished the structure and injured a number of those inside. An ice house belonging to the Kiskadee of Chicago, near Elgin, was burned by lightning at Elgin.

At Jacksonville, Wis., the house of I. C. O'Brien was demolished by lightning. All members of the family were absent at a picnic and thus their lives were saved.

At Hoosier, Mich., 25 dwellings were blown from their foundations by the wind and flood. Corn and small grain in stack was flattened out everywhere, and the loss to farmers will foot up thousands of dollars.

Annual Pension Report.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Advance sheets of the pension commissioner's report on the total number of pensioners on the rolls June 30, 1899, were 991,510, a decrease of 2,195 over the number for 1898. The important feature of this statement is that the pension roll is growing less, notwithstanding the fact that during the year 37,077 new pensioners were granted.

The Case Involving More Than the Fate of a Mere Captain of Artillery.

THAT ONLY AN INCIDENT TO THE TRIAL.

Dreyfus' Lawyer Shot.

Buenos, Aug. 14.—Two men ambushed Mathie Labori, counsel for Dreyfus, and one shot was fired, hitting Labori in the back. M. Labori fell in the roadway. He is still alive.

Buenos, Aug. 14.—The battle has begun in earnest. Its political bearings are shown in the arrest of Paul de Hondele, the deputy, and poet, and 21 of his numerous royalist and nonpartisan allies, who have pooled with him against the republic. As in the long-continued conspiracy, the pool would be of little consequence but for the military case, which has found representative men in Gen. De Negrier and some other generals having great commands.

A strange spectacle.

It is a strange thing how the fight thickened around the shadowy and emaciated re-labeled Jew, whose uniform of an artillery captain so ill-fitted and belittles his figure and physiognomy.

A flight to the death.

Last Monday's sitting of the court-martial and the subsequent non-public sittings were the first skirmishing operations, but Saturday was a field day, in which the two hostile forces into which France is divided and has been since the revolution, set themselves in array of battle and drew the first blood. Each side stands committed to a certain course and has begun the actual Dreyfus trial.

The actual Dreyfus trial is a trial of strength. I can not see a possibility of its ending in a drawn game. It is now a "neck or nothing" combat, a desperate fight in which neither side will give in unless utterly routed.

The Forces Engaged.

The usual situation of the forces engaged reminds one of the armies of the French revolution and those they had to fight. The Dreyfusites have the brains, the forward impulse, the dash and the flexibility. At the same time they are raw recruits, gathered spontaneously from the four points of the compass. Hatred of the military caste, and it may be, the secret hope of rewards have made them homogeneous.

The nationalists have social and other prestige, numbers and organization. Their center is composed of the majority of Frenchmen and French women. Their left wing is formed of 20,000 officers and their right wing consists of the church.

Both Sides Without Scruples.

All profess respect for legality, but only from the lips out. One side is just as unscrupulous as the other, but the most active and less numerous side has more really right for the cause of justice and truth. The Dreyfusites have, at any rate, more intelligent rights, and they are sure of the friendly neutrality of the government.

Their adversaries can no longer make use of the rape that hung blackly, or the razor that cut Henry's throat. The minister of war could not, in 1895, read a forged document in parliament. It is impossible now to stuff the dossier with fables fit for Mother Goose's tales. But organization, numbers, prestige and wealth means staying power.

Dreyfus' Financial Backing.

Doubtless the Dreyfusites are supplied with Jewish funds without accepting $1,000,000. The sums subscribed by English and German Jews must be enormous, but, like wealthy gentiles, rich Jews are fond of the pomp and display of life, the titles of aristocratic society. Many of them are frightened already at the onramp pace of the Dreyfusites.

Gen. Mercier's Deposition.

Gen. Mercier's deposition was invaluable unless to the judges and shorthand reporters. It fell flat, his voice and delivery being bad. But we have it now in print. It has qualities for which we did not give it credit during delivery. They are easy, flowing statements, plausibility and the art of falling suspicion. As the deposition appears in full in the reports it will everywhere be read with delight by those already persuaded that Dreyfus is a traitor. They will not see what was Pecksniffian; what was the false personality. Evidently speaking, the deposition, which was really a speech for the prosecution, shows Mercier to be a consistent of the highest order. He never loses his way in the most intricate variations and keeps in view that Dreyfus is a cool, calculating, well-informed traitor.

Only the Beginning of the Struggle.

The immediate issue of the fight is freedom of Dreyfus, but Saturday's incidents and episodes are the beginning of a struggle of far-reaching consequences.

THE ASSASSIN'S BULLET.

M. Labori, Capt. Dreyfus' Principal Counsel, the Victim of an Assassin.

SHOT IN THE BACK AND BADLY WOUNDED

He Was On His Way to Attend the Sitting of the Court-Martial at Rennes, and was Waylaid—At least Accounts He was Severe.

Rennes, Aug. 15.—Latest details regarding the shooting of M. Labori show that the sky was overcast when M. Labori left his home, about 6 a. m., accompanied by Col. Picquart and the latter's brother-in-law, M. Gast.

M. Labori was laughing and chatting with his companions when he was shot. The party was passing the Pont de la Chapelle, and was about to cross the Chateaubriand bridge, when a man, hidden behind a wooden fence, at a corner of the wall, stepped out and fired at M. Labori.

He fell to the ground. The wounded man fell to the ground. He tried to rise and put his hand to the wound in his back and brought the hand back covered with blood. As he lay there, with his clothes covered with the dust in which he had fallen, he said in a faint voice:

"I beg you to give me my stick and my papers. Go and tell them," he added, with a final effort, "to suspend the proceedings."

The shot had been heard 200 yards away from the avenue de la Gare, where a crowd had gathered as usual to witness the arrival of the principal personages connected with the court martial. These spectators ran in the direction of the spot where the shooting had occurred, followed by gendarmes on horseback.

The Doctor Arrived.

The wounded man asked to have a surgeon called to come to his residence and to have Dr. Reine summoned. When the doctor arrived he knelt beside M. Labori, putting a bottle of smelling salts to his nostrils. Around these central figures were grouped the spectators, all deeply affected, some indeed crying like children. At a little distance was gathered another group. The central figure of which was the commissary of police, note book in hand taking down the testimony of the eye witnesses of the affair.

The Scene of the Crime.

The scene of this pathetic picture was a dusty high road, the dark green, slow waters of the River Maine on one side and on the other scattered houses with a gap just opposite the spot through which could be seen a green meadow with a stream flowing through it and beyond that the backs of a row of houses.

A cord of mounted gendarmes was drawn up as quickly as possible, about fifteen yards apart, and in the space within which were the two groups already described.

Borne to His Residence.

An ambulance which had been summoned arrived with four attendants of the military hospital bearing an ordinary stretcher on which was placed a blue and white striped mattress. On this M. Labori was tenderly laid and the stretcher was borne by friends of M. Labori and some newspaper men, with Mme. Labori walking beside it.

The party proceeded slowly back in the middle of the roadway to M. Labori's temporary residence, where he had rented a furnished house for use during the continuance of the court martial.

Searching for the Assassin.

A force of gendarmes, headed by M. Hennon, sub-chief of the secret police, is scouring the country in search of M. Labori's assailant, and a company of infantry has been dispatched to surround and beat the wood where the murderer is supposed to have hidden. An incredible tale of the outrage, the fact, it is asserted, that several passers-by saw M. Labori shot and passed on indifferently, neither offering to help the victim nor joining in the pursuit of the assassin.

Hunted by an Outlaw.

Still more incredible is the fact that an individual who went to the side of M. Labori as he lay wounded on the ground, and is said to have searched the pockets of the suffering man and stolen their contents.

The assassin fled after the shooting, holding his revolver in his hand, with his finger on the trigger and threatening several men who showed a disposition to block his way.

The Wounded Man's Condition.

One of the doctors at M. Labori's house said that M. Labori was bearing the agony he was suffering with surprising fortitude, and added: "He has been put to bed and is being watched by his wife. He has spoken, but not of himself; always about the trial. We have strong hopes that he will pull through and have sent an optimistic telegram to his family. It will be 48 hours, however, before we can speak with certainty of his condition."

HERE is dollars to doughnuts that Mr. Bryan will not speak in Kentucky in this fall's campaign.

Hon. GOODE's recent speech in Hopkins county had somewhat of a goodnight effect to the cause of Goebel.

REPUBLICANS to the front in Kentucky's line of march. The fight will soon be on in earnest. Stand in line.

Has Goebel weakened—lost faith in his Goebel Bill and in his election commissioners, or what is it that gives him that scared caste of countenance?

It is amusing to note some of the apologies made for supporting the nomination of the Redwine Convention. Apologies seem to be necessary. Doubtless they are.

In the event of Goebel's election the Courier-Journal has fears of the State printing going to the Cincinnati Enquirer. The Enquirer is truly more of a Goebel organ than either the Courier-Journal or the Times. Strange but true.

SOME unseen powers stilled Mr. Settle's tongue at Bowling Green in the midst of his tirade against all that is decent in politics. Such warning should be sufficient, and henceforth all espousing Goebelism should govern themselves accordingly.

THE Louisville Post's supplement, issued the 11th inst., is a very creditable one, interesting in the extreme as it sets forth the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. Truth that even Mr. Blackburn's "lying newspapers" cannot question if they were so disposed.

We predict for Goebel a fair sized crowd wherever he may speak, for no other reason than that it has never been known to fail that where the coming of a murderer into a community is known, right there people will congregate impelled by curiosity to see what the culprit looks like.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer's interest in Goebel and Goebelism is due to another "trade" made by Goebel and others. The Enquirer's support has been paid for, not a mere promise to pay as some would suppose, but actually paid for before delivery of goods, and with the understanding that if Goebel is declared "King" by the "powers that be," viz., "The Goebel Bill" additional favors will be extended.

CAN a man, who will in cold blood kill another and be guilty of numerous other crimes, expect the people of Kentucky to elect him Governor of the proud old Commonwealth? Certainly not or why should he be in advance of the election have a law enacted to make his election sure, no matter how overwhelming the vote against him might be. The foresight and shrewdness of Mr. Goebel cannot be denied nor questioned.

Thus far Mister Urey Woodson appears to be a silent partner of Goebel & Co. He is one of the "push" who seems to have sense enough to keep his mouth shut. Doubtless he remembers that ex-Gov. John Young Brown made him what he is and it is due to that fact that he remains silent. Even the Messenger editorials espousing the Goebel cause are directly traceable to Messrs. Leigh and May, the bone, sinew and brain of the Messenger.

JUDGE JOSEPH L. ELLISTON, a lawyer and chairman of Kenton county's committee of Goebel Democrats, also an election commissioner for Kenton county, said in a recent conversation: "Well you fellows may do the voting, and we'll do the counting."

This man Elliston is a sworn election commissioner. Of course everybody knows that he reads the law as it was intended to be carried out. Six affidavits have been made by citizens who heard the statements of Elliston, and the three commissioners at Frankfort will have an opportunity of confirming the Kenton county appointment.

THE Goebel & Co.'s circus with its numerous side shows was "pulled off" at Mayfield the 12th inst., and the Pennyrile voters of that section still live. Mr. Goebel, however, in the midst of his harangue, sickened right unto death and for a time it was thought that speech would be his last on earth. Well, as some contend, this was doubtless a warning from some higher power than "election laws" and "convention rulings" made by man. It would indeed be sacrilegious to quote Scripture in connection with Goebel and his "forty or more thieves" under any circumstances, or we could cite our readers to many suitable passages applicable to the case. Throughout the Pennyrile district we are God's people, let it be remembered.

THE Wage-Earner's Story. New York Letter to Philadelphia Press.

Ever since the close of the fiscal year there have been amazing stories of official reports that show the extent throughout the country and the magnitude of the exciting business prosperity. The clearings reported from the various cities have furnished good proof of the enormity of the transactions of a domestic nature done in the past six months.

Today comes an equally gratifying tale narrated from another point of view. And, aside from the visible evidences of cheerfulness and content that everyone has been able to see in this city, this report gives the only opportunity for discovering whether the wage-earners are sharing in the prosperous conditions. It is a report that shows what the savings banks of the various boroughs that comprise the city of New York have been doing for six months. There are in the enlarged New York forty-nine savings institutions. Their deposits range from $6,000,000 down to $4,000. Their resources reach in one case as high as $76,000,000, and there are ten whose resources are not less than $25,000,000.

Since the 1st of January the wage-earner's of New York have deposited in these banks nearly $20,000,000 more than they withdrew from them, and in one case the resources were increased by nearly three millions in six months. Not a savings bank in all the enlarged New York shows less deposits on July 1 than it did on January 1, and not one shows a decrease in resources. That is to say, that for six months the net savings of the working-men of New York City were about $20,000,000, and it is estimated that unless there be a change in the conditions that now prevail the wage-earners of this city will have as their share of the prosperity of the country in the form of permanent investment or savings $50,000,000 more than they had last year.

Uncle Sam Penny Wise. Washington Letter to the New York Post.

The United States Government is run on rather extravagant lines in respect to the outlay of money for various classes of service, but it is closeness itself when it comes to the auditing of the accounts for such service. An officer who was traveling in the West some time ago on public business wanted to run over to Pipestone, Minn., from Flandrau, S. D., and back again. By rail, this meant a rather long detour, and involved considerable expense for car fares, hotel accommodations, etc.; but the distance straight across the prairie was only fifteen miles, and his errand in Pipestone could be accomplished in an hour. He inquired at a local livery stable, and found that a buggy, horse and driver could be got for $5. Just then an Indian farmer came along and said he wanted to go to Pipestone, too, and that he had a pair of horses, but no light wagon.

"A Gentle Wind of Western Birth"

Tells no sweeter story to humanity than the announcement that the health-giver and health-bringer, Hood's Sarsaparilla, tells of the birth of an era of good health. It is the one reliable specific for the cure of all blood, stomach and liver troubles.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

The officer found that he could hire a buggy alone for fifty cents; the Indian agreed to furnish the horses and do the driving for nothing, taking his compensation in his own free trip over and back. A bargain was accordingly struck, the journey was made, and when the officer returned in his vouchers at Washington one of them was for "one buggy, one day, fifty cents."

Although his entire account ran well up into the hundreds of dollars, this was the single item held up by the auditing experts. "Who ever heard of hiring a buggy and horses for fifty cents a day?" they sagely inquired. "And to hire a buggy without horses would be folly, for the man could not have dragged it himself. There is something wrong here." So, at considerable inconvenience and cost of time, the frugal functionary of the Government had to visit the office and make an elaborate explanation, first orally and then in writing, and the written statement had to be duly filed in the archives before the account was passed and his money paid to him.

This failure of an effort to save $4.50 for the Government was not without its lesson. From that day forward the officer concerned never haggled over questions of economy. He hired a whole outfit when he hired anything, and let Uncle Sam pay big bills rather than be bothered with little ones.

CLIPPED FROM THE KENTUCKY EXCHANGES.

A Curious Find. From the Lebanon Falcon.

James W. Hamilton, the thresherman, tells us that while he was threshing a crop of wheat for Mr. Spalding, on the Bradfordsville pike, about three miles from town, on Saturday afternoon, on finishing the first stack, a hole was discovered near the center of the stack, and no sooner had it been discovered than a snake protruded its head from the opening. There were several dogs with the machine at the time, and one of them jerked the reptile from his abode. After dispatching the reptile, the cur again made a rush for the hole and this time emerged with a large skunk in his mouth. The effluvia of this animal, however, soon proved too much for his dogship, and he released his hold and again made for the hole; this time he could not land his prey. Several of the machine hands laid to, and pretty soon two groundhogs were pulled out. After a severe fight with the dogs they were killed. The two groundhogs, which were the largest ever seen in that country, the skunk and the snake, a viper, were dwelling in peace and harmony in the same bed.

The Old Way. From the Harrodsburg Democrat.

The Democrat talked with two old timers at Lexington the other day, Messrs. Robert Prewitt and Ike Smith. In 1851 Mr. Smith drove 112 head of fat cattle for Mr. Prewitt to New York, taking eighty-five days for the trip. It was customary at that time to drive cattle from Kentucky all the way to Boston. There were no scales in Kentucky on which to weigh cattle; it was the custom for the buyer and seller to agree on a steer of average size and kill him and weigh the parts after being cleaned and butchered. The weight thus ascertained was to stand for the weight of each animal in the lot to be sold, and they were sold at so much per pound net, as arrived at by this method. The prevailing price fifty years ago for fat cattle from 1,300 to 1,600 pounds was 4 cents per pound net weight, the same grade of cattle that would now bring about 5 cents gross on foot.

A Rare Tobacco. From the Harrodsburg Democrat.

Mr. T. M. Dean, of the Cummin's Ferry neighborhood, was in town Monday. Several years ago, while in the cliffs, he found a number of wild tobacco plants, which he transplanted and cultivated, and they turned out some of the finest "long green" he had ever seen. One peculiarity about this

DOWN IN THE MINES.

Among the new men to cast their lot with the St. Bernard Coal Company is Mr. Walter H. Finley, a graduate in mining engineering. Since graduating, he has been employed at mines in Montana, and now comes to assist Mr. Howard White as assistant mine engineer, and a valuable helper he has proved to be that Mr. White is greatly delighted with him.

The president of the St. Bernard Company, Mr. J. B. Atkinson, has left to spend a few weeks in the East with his family who are now sojourning there.

Secretary Bailey, of the Reinecke Coal Company, as usual took quite an interest in the Hopkins County Fair.

Last week we quoted at some length the influence of the saloon on the strike at Evansville, and this week we quote from a writer to the United Mine Journal what had effect the use of liquor has on even the members of the U. M. W.:

The first of a series of local meetings was held at Smithton on Monday, for the Waverly miners, but a half dozen only put in an appearance. It was blue Monday, and of course the saloons attracted the attention of a large number of miners and they came to the meeting to attend a meeting, I suppose that some of the poor fellows when they receive from $10 to $15 for two weeks' hard labor, so overjoyed with such prosperity that they must try to drown their past hardships and troubles and feel strong, rich and happy, at least as long as their small pay will last.

This week sees the consummation of some gigantic coal and coke deals in Fayette county and the Connelville coke region. The Federal Steel Company, who recently purchased from H. C. Frick the Revere tract, just south of Uniontown, has sold 1,132 acres of it to W. J. Rainey for a trifling less than $1,000 per acre, making a total consideration of over $1,100,000 and for the same sum has purchased about 2,000 acres of the Du Puy coal in Nicholson, German and Manallen townships. The Cochran interests have bought 1,500 acres of fine coal just beyond their Washington plant, and have organized the Cochran Coal and Coke Company with capital $500,000. The company has also organized a new $100,000 concern and will build a new coke plant in the north end of the Connelville region—Connellsville, Pa., Courier.

Vessels for the coal trade are reported scarce at Cleveland.

Among the thousands, who attended the fair at Madisonville last week could be found the miners and their families in large numbers, who even while work is plentiful, took a few hours to attend their county fair and take a needed rest.

Superintendent Crutchfield and family from St. Charles, were among the visitors at the county fair last week.

While the St. Bernard Company had no exhibit at the fair this year, they furnished a large number of the patrons of the fair.

Six hundred miners in eastern Kentucky are out on a strike on account of controversy about wages. If there is a portion of Kentucky where they strike it is eastern Kentucky where they seem to be of annual occurrence.

A recent strike at Central City lasted only two days, and the supposition is that as usual the operators conceded the agitators their demands.

"Two more arrests were made this morning of the parties who are charged with being implicated in the recent midnight assault upon non-union miners near the Sunnyside coal mines.

The parties arrested were George Spradley and William Rueger. Both are young men about 22 years of age and they live in the West End of the city. They are miners and were employed in the Sunnyside mines previous to the inauguration of the strike.

"Since the midnight shooting affair the men have been out of the city but returned a few days ago.

"Deputy Sheriff George Koch heard they were in the city and as he had warrants for their arrest, he started in search of them this morning. He found Spradley at the Sunnyside mines, and while passing the Franklin street park he saw Rueger, so he brought both of the men up to the county jail, where they will be incarcerated until they give bond in the sum of $1,000 for their appearance at the September term of the Circuit Court.

"It is understood that their friends and relatives are taking steps toward securing bondmen.

The warrants on which the men were arrested were made out in compliance with indictments returned by the last grand jury, and charge the men with assault and battery with intent to maim and kill.

"The News' readers will recall the shooting scrape. While bookkeeper James Moore, of the Sunnyside Coal Company, and Ed Gelger were transporting about twenty-seven non-union colored miners from the L. & N. depot at Howell to the mines of the Sunnyside coal and coke company, one night last May, unknown parties fired upon the wagonette containing the men at a point on West Maryland Street, and James Moore received wounds from which he is just recovering and five of the negro miners were struck by shots and bullets. Ed Gelger's ear was penetrated and almost cut off by one of the bullets.

"This makes six arrests in all which resulted from the grand jury's investigation of the affair, and several other arrests are yet to be made. As soon as the men can be apprehended they will be arrested."

—Evansville News

It is thought by some that the call issued by Agitator Wood for members of the U. M. W. to beware of Hopkins county and leave the same without further effort to organize is only a blind, behind which he expects to complete his plan of mischief-making.

It is thought that the Campbell washers being constructed at the coke works will be ready for use this week, and the work on the slack bins is being pushed by Foreman Tomlin.

Said a miner one day this week: "I expect to vote for Goebel, but I believe that the Republican party is the true friend of labor." Yet he will vote against his own interests.

Mr. John Logan is again making the rounds establishing new agencies for the Coal Company. John is getting ready for another rush next winter.

When a miner makes up his mind to support Goebel, he should abandon all hope of further increase of the industry of this State, if his candidate should be successful. An avowed enemy to labor and its interests in the government's chair can work a great injury to the miners.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we every had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. I had known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering. Yours truly, Mrs. George F. Burnett, Liberty, R. I. The Big Reunion at Evansville.

The Reunion to be held at Evansville October 10-13 has grown to such proportions that it will undoubtedly be the greatest gathering ever held in the State. President McKinley will be there, a committee having already been to see him. A committee composed of Mayor Akin, Capt. Lee Howell and Capt. William Field will leave for the South next week to invite the Governors of the Southern States, General Gordon, Gen. Steven D. Lee, of Mississippi; A. J. West, of Georgia; Ex-Governor Jones, of Alabama, and many other distinguished participants of the civil war.

Very low rates will be made on all the railroad and steamboat lines.

There will be many visiting military companies and Prize Drills, and a Sham Battle will be among the attractions.

Wonderful Discovery.

LUNSFORD, ALA., April 15, 1898. New Spencer Medicine Co.

Dear Sir:—I have been troubled with liver and stomach complaint. I had no appetite and my general health was very bad. I took medicine from four different doctors and they failed to do me any good. I got no relief until I began to use your valuable Nubian Tea. I used about two dollars worth of it and it did me more good than all the medicine I ever took. I have gained thirty-five pounds in weight and my health is very good. I can sleep soundly and my appetite is excellent. I can recommend Plaster's Nubian Tea to the world as being a God-send to any community. Any one who doubts this statement can write to me. Oskar Baker, Sold by St. Bernard Drugstore.

Lots of Bugs.

Editor Jim Allen, of the Cynthia Democrat, says: "Few picnics have been held this summer, owing to the unusual number of bugs that crawl over one. There are the gold bugs, the silver bugs, the Taylor bugs, the Blair bugs, the kissing bugs, the pinching bugs, the humbugs—all, judging from the maddening, related to that much despised but very energetic kicker, the tumble bug."

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Dr. David Taylor, of Wind Ridge, Greene county, Pa., is one of them. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give such quick relief.

Stoo Reward, Stoo.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHERRY, Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Stay at Home.

From the Lynchburg (Va.) News

Our advice to any capable young man would be, turn a deaf ear to the fascinating stories of rich gold deposits in the Klondike or in South Africa or anywhere else and devote your time and talents to some other pursuit in which success is more certain and which does not involve so many hardships and dangers. The truth is that gold is not the only thing to be desired in this world. It is possible to pay too dear for it in the sacrifice of all the pleasures of society, the comforts of home, physical health and even life itself.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, that, by a lady in this country. "Discovered" means its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she suffered constantly and miserably, and she finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so completely relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. From the Little Rock, Ark., Gazette. "July failures have been smaller than in any other month of May; there is record, excepting May, and trading failures smaller than in other month." This is one of the significant announcements made by Dun in his report of the condition of last week's trade. It means that the country is prosper- ous; that confidence is restored, and that the good times have come to stay.

The Perfect Foot.

A perfectly formed foot should, according to anatomists, be as long as the bone in the forearm, which extends from the elbow joint to the wrist. This seems to be ab- normally long in a tall person, but it is the measurement taken by ar- tists. Of course, arms are some- times out of proportion, being far too short for the general height, but it is rare that an arm is too long for the stature of a person.

Sam Jones on Ingersoll.

"What do I think of Bob Ingersoll? I have had my opinion pretty well expressed in an editorial com- ment in the Atlanta Constitution. In brief, that editorial said Ingersoll fought in the open and made no pretensions of being other than he was. He did not profess religion to betray it. He struck Christian- ity no blow while pretending to hold its doctrines. But in all his life Ingersoll never did one-half the harm committed by the Briggs, the Potters, the Lyman Abbotts, and others of like kidney have done, are doing and will continue to do. Them's my sentiments.

"I suppose infidelity is progress- ively. Ingersoll began by doubting. Then denied. Then he denounced. He wound up by doubting whether his doubts were doubts or not. Peace to his ashes. I did not gang with him while he lived, and I will not abuse him now that he is dead. But if he could get back to this country and fill the engagements he made while he was alive, I would like a front seat to hear what he has to say now, with the experience of the past few days added to his original lectures."—Interview with Sam Jones in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

'Twas at a Musical Party.

(Words and music by C. G. Pfaten- hauer, Op. V.) 'Twas at a musical party, I met a maiden fair. She had dear complexion, blue eyes and golden hair, etc.

Chorus:— A many happy hour together we whiled away. Since that bright happy evening when first heard her play. I fell in love that evening with those blue eyes divine, And later when I saw her home she promised to be mine.

She asked me to assist her, with my violin that night, I chose my composition for she could read at sight.—Cuo, Etc.

Goebel vs. the Temperance Peo- ple.

From the Kentucky Gleaner. The State Temperance Society, representing the seven leading Christian denominations are out in a circular showing who have been their friends in the legislature. Among those whose names they mention is that of Senator Goebel, Democratic nominee for Gov- ernor. In speaking of him they say:

Yet no man who has ever been in the legislature at Frankfort has been a more implacable foe to every effort of the temperance people than Mr. Goebel. Never in one single case in all his career so far as is known to your committee has he ever in any way whatever, either by sympathy or act, given the temperance people any help or comfort. In every case when he has been able to strike us he has done it.

It was he who raised the point of order that deadlocked the senate against us in the legislature. He did this knowing that it would put him in the chair as speaker pro tem, when even against a majority of the senate he could hold as at bay until it would be too late to pass our bill in the other house. He was also one of those who refused to vote in order to break a quorum and thus bring about a deadlock, and when at last we were able to compel a vote he voted squarely against us on the first passage of the bill by the senate.

Here were the prayers of seven Christian denominations for a chance to vote against whiskey, yet Mr. Goebel blocked their way.

Here is one place, Brother Helm, where he was against the "Chris- tian" people, and his acts favored the whisky trust octopus.
